These symbols gain in value when we consider their true meaning. They stand for places, and for ideas that we believe in and cherish. They remind us of the history and the traditions of our school. These symbols are keys, of a sort, to what our school means to us.

In Memoriam

Mrs. Elizabeth Abel

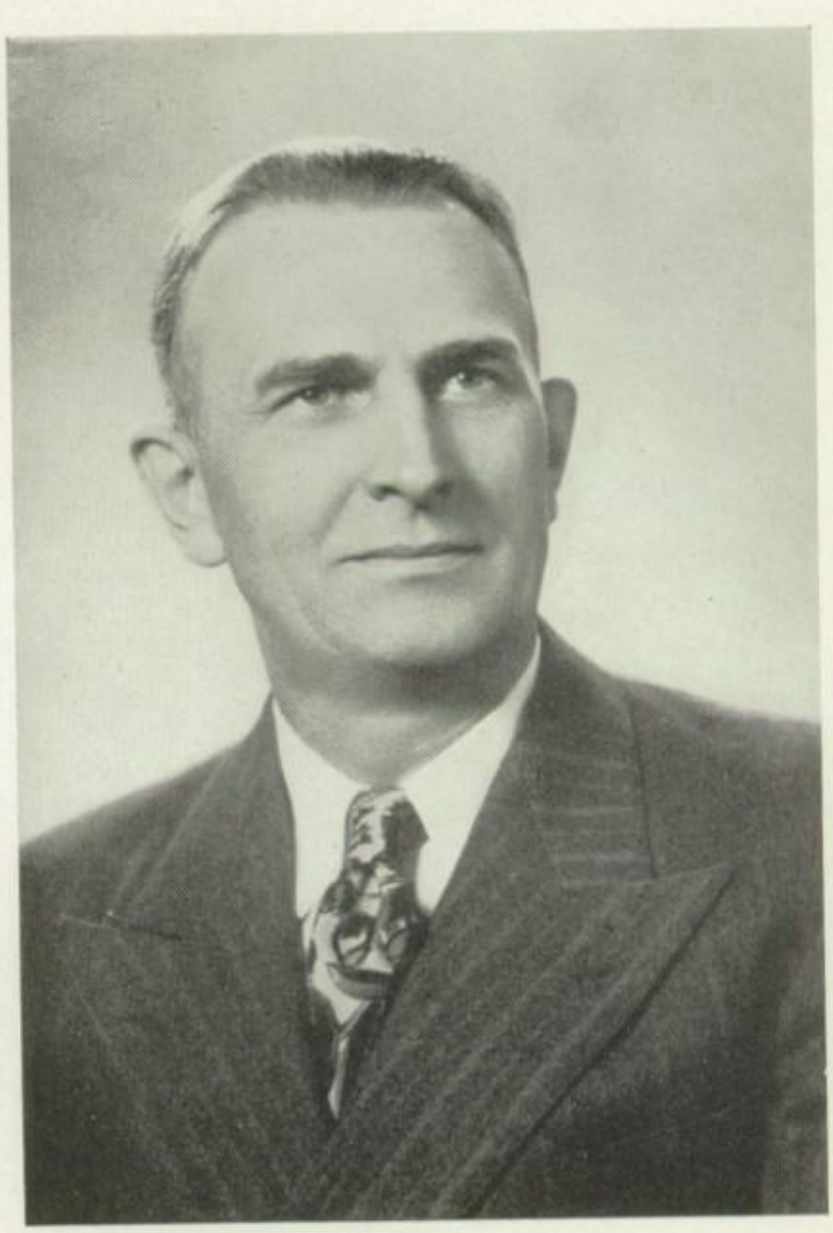
A genuine concern for the welfare of others brought and kept Mrs. Elizabeth Abel close to the hearts of her students. Sincerely interested in helping others, she was always willing to devote extra time to any student who might come to her with any kind of problem—school or personal.

Both faculty members and students will remember Mrs. Abel's friendliness, her kindly interest in people, and her great enthusiasm for her work.

Mr. Walter Brinkman

The grief felt by both the students and the faculty members as a result of the sudden death of their friend, Mr. Walter N. Brinkman, will not soon be relieved. A smile and a jest were the trademarks of this warm-hearted man who will long be remembered by all who were fortunate enough to know him.

Mr. Brinkman's pleasing personality and good humor won him the affection of all. He was a man of good judgment, and a teacher of discernment and quality.



"We pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands; one nation indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

. . . Proudly Dedicate Our Book To Miss Nina Grace Smith

Sparkle, wit, and a distinct ability in the classroom combine to make Miss Nina Grace Smith one of the most respected and best liked teachers at school. Her efficiency and energetic emphasis on excellence have won the admiration and confidence of all those who have worked with her, and students in her classes are long grateful for her thorough training in "thinking things through."

Hard work is characteristic of Miss Smith, who sets an example of industry and effective organization in all she does. In addition to conducting unusually interesting English classes, Miss Smith is active in helping with the high school dramatic program, is an adviser for Tabula staff, and this year has headed the Senior Electives Committee for the English Department.

We on Tabula staff are especially glad to dedicate our yearbook to Miss Smith, who has helped so much with its creation. We have "collected the evidence," we have "considered carefully," and we think it entirely "logical" that we affectionately dedicate this book to her.

The assembly program this year provided the students with many interesting and varied programs. At one of the most outstanding assemblies, Dr. Nicholas Nyaradi, former Hungarian Secretary of the Treasury, spoke from personal experience on present-day life in countries behind the iron curtain.

In a fall assembly the monogram winners were featured, and at Christmas time all the girls joined in a Christmas sing. The Scholarship Assembly in February honored the leading scholars of all classes and announced the senior winner of the cup.

Two vocational assemblies were presented this year, one on physical education and the other on business. At the latter a representative of the Illinois Bell Telephone Company was the speaker. Assemblies in various specialized fields — music, science, home economics, and languages—were also held.

Administration

Superintendent

Dr. Youngert

Dr. Eugene Youngert, our superintendent, is a very busy man. In addition to his numerous administrative duties, he is the sponsor of Student Council, and in this way he is able to keep closely in touch with the student representatives in our school. Besides being an active member of civic groups in the village, Dr. Youngert often attends and addresses school meetings all over the country.

The members of the Board of Education form the governing group of a school system. These men and women, elected by the citizens of our community, give liberally of their time and effort to maintain in our school the high standards of education the people of the community desire.

Board of Education

Mr. Fritzemeier and Miss Horner

The deans are always eager to help us throughout our high school careers. Miss Pring and Mr. Seymour reassure us and get us off to a good start as freshmen, while, in our sophomore year, Miss Ball and Mr. Fuog, through private conferences, aid us in planning our upperclass years.

Mrs. Grant and Mr. Cady encourage us as we go through a battery of aptitude tests in the junior year. Then, as graduation draws near, Miss Horner and Mr. Fritzemeier advise us wisely on college and career, before we become absorbed in the excitement of Class Day and Commencement. We are all extremely grateful for the genuine interest that the deans have for each one of us.

Home Economics

The Home Economics Department gives girls valuable training that they can use both now and later. In Foods I, II, and III classes young cooks learn how to make everything from carrot curls to Baked Alaska. After taking Clothing I and II, girls in Clothing III make even winter coats with a degree of professional facility. Home Management I and II give students practical training in running a home.

Besides directing the numerous vocal and instrumental groups and giving semiannual class demonstrations, the members of the Music Department teach certain courses. General Music, which is usually elected by freshmen, gives them a good musical background. Harmony is a course in theory offered to advanced students to teach them the elements of music. Music Literature gives majors an appreciation of great music and its composers.

Maintaining student health is the chief concern of the Physical Education Department and the School Nurse. Each day every student spends one period in a gym or health class, and an active after-school program is maintained. The nurse keeps track of absences and is on hand for any emergencies.

Public Speaking

Gaylord Ramsay
Helen Lounsbury

The aim of the Public Speaking course is to teach the art of saying much in a few words, and in the most effective way. Some of the speech activities are pantomimes, through which the students learn relaxation, and pleas and denunciations, through which they acquire practice in emphatic gestures. Casual conversation leads to skill in small talk.

A "What's New" period several times a week keeps students posted on current events, as does the required listening to speeches outside of class.

Improvement in enunciation, facility in language, and poise are the most valuable results of the speech course.

Library

Whether we are writing a long paper or merely looking for leisure reading, we rely on the knowledge and skill of the librarians.

Projection Staff

On Projection Staff a group of boys work under the direction of Mr. Park in the operation of the extensive visual education program of this school.

Boys learn to run the machines in a few weeks by following the instructions of the regular operators. Later, these apprentices operate the projectors under minor supervision until their proficiency is confirmed by the upperclassmen. The boys receive intensive training from Mr. Park to earn their unit for two years of work. They learn the principles of audiographic projection and of audiovisual instruction, repair work, and the appraising of films. At the end of the course the boys are entitled to a card certifying their proficiency.

The Class of 1952

We, the class of 1952, take pride in our accomplishments of the past four years. We look back over the years, and remember a great variety of experiences, some of them in the classroom, on the stage, and on the football field.

We are proud of the goals we've reached, but above all, we're proud of our leaders. The officers of the class this year—Jack Snow, Bob Fritts, Virginia Coath, Alan Borse, and Bill Eckert—led us in our attempt to become true leaders whom underclassmen can respect. Ann Nickerson, Park Teter, and Lloyd Williams gave us inspiring leadership in those unforgettable conferences of '51. The Big Brothers and Sisters helped the freshmen become accustomed to the ways of our school.

At the February honor assembly, David Davis, Ruth Jaeger, Janet Hassell, and Nancy Lind were honored as the scholastic leaders of the school, and over sixty seniors were on the Four-Year Honor Roll. The great honor of being Commencement speakers was given to David Davis, Nancy Lind, Margarita Simpson, and Park Teter.

Now as we come to the end of our senior year, we look ahead with anticipation, but we shall always treasure the memories of the past four years. Even the everyday aspects of the school such as the flag blowing in the wind, and the crest embossed in cement have come to have a significant meaning for us. Never shall we forget the symbols of our school and all that they stand for.

Underclassmen

The juniors spent their year in many interesting activities. They were faced by new responsibilities, which they performed well.

This year a great number of juniors joined the upper-class clubs. Many others tried out for the Girls' Club Play and the operetta. Many girls played on the intramural hockey and volleyball teams, and the boys helped make up the varsity teams.

Juniors honored some of their classmates by electing them to Junior Council. They also chose officers of Boys' and Girls' Conferences for 1952. Early in the year the Junior Class took aptitude tests to help them determine what vocation they would like to enter. They remember waiting eagerly until they received the results of these tests in November.

Midway in the second semester all juniors did some research in the library preparatory to writing the junior theme. They remember writing until late at night in order to meet the deadline for that long paper.

Juniors

For one of the assemblies, the deans, Mrs. Grant and Mr. Cady, arranged for the juniors to see "City and Country Life in Chile", an interesting movie.

The Prom was built around the theme "April in Paris" this year. Prom committees worked for several weeks to produce a charming atmosphere and to create an enjoyable evening for many couples.

Could this be theme work?

Sophomores

After completing their second year, members of the Sophomore Class are fully acquainted with the ways of our school.

The sophomores remember listening to Miss Ball and Mr. Fuog discuss their future at a meeting for the students and their parents. All the sophomores had informal conferences with their deans, too.

What nice smiles you have—and all the better to study with!

Sophomores

They enjoyed the fine assemblies that were arranged for them, especially the Electrical Assembly, which was very informative as well as interesting. Another highlight of the assembly program came when John Sloan displayed the wonders of liquid air. The boys saw some of their friends receive awards at the Monogram Assembly also.

Some of the English classes found variation from the regular schedule in presenting a few of the "Plays as Experience" in class.

Many sophs played on girls' and boys' athletic teams, and others joined the various clubs. Some joined the Biology Club to learn about some of the interesting things in science. Many others enjoyed displaying their talents in the plays put on by Masqueraders.

They remember rushing to lunch from their study halls in 311 and 328. They remember climbing the long flights of stairs and spending their leisure moments in conversation with their friends.

Freshmen

The freshmen, who took part in many activities, received guidance in these activities from many faculty members in addition to Miss Pring and Mr. Seymour, their deans. Among the memories they retain of their first year in high school are those of learning from Big Brothers and Sisters about school manners and customs, showing their parents through school on P.T.A. day, going to school at night, and taking their first high school exams.

The freshmen also remember studying mythology and factoring during the week, and cheering for their athletic teams on the week ends. The freshmen shared the honors of the Scholarship Assembly by having nearly seventy-five of their number on the semester honor roll.

Barbara Hillborn, Judy Rubinstein, Janice Rice, Richelle Brenner, Eileen Chirat, and Juleanne Larson string tags for Chicago Commons.

Freshmen

At Christmas time, they listened to their Freshman Chorus sing at the Music Assembly. The girls had a good time stringing tags for Tag Day and also attending the Big-Little Sister Party. About fifty per cent of the Freshman Class subscribed to the publications, and some worked on "Trap" and Crest. In their leisure time, many freshmen chatted with their friends around their lockers in the first-floor halls or near 102.

During this year of getting acquainted with new people and customs, the freshmen enjoyed themselves while they proved their worth as loyal Doopers.

"Harriet"

On Friday and Saturday, May 2 and 3, the Senior Class Play, "Harriet," was presented under the direction of Mr. Knowles Cooke.

The story of the play is based upon the life of Harriet Beecher Stowe. The characters include others of the famous Beecher family. With Harriet's marriage to an absent-minded professor, she promises herself a life devoted to writing, but poverty and six children leave her very little time to herself.

To escape the political controversy of abolition, Harriet moves her family to New England. There the capture of an escaped Negro slave in her house leads Harriet to write her most popular novel, "Uncle Tom's Cabin," portraying the evils of slavery. Her book is an immediate success in the North, but before Harriet can enjoy her popularity, the war begins and she sees her loved ones carried off to war. The fact that she may have helped to cause the war with her book makes Harriet lose faith in the world. Her faith is restored finally by a visit with Lincoln.

It appears in the Christmas Vespers, the Christmas and spring concerts, the Easter Sunrise Service, Baccalaureate, and also in many community activities. The Gilbert and Sullivan operetta, "The Pirates of Penzance," was presented by the choir this year, and was hailed a tremendous success.

Membership in the A Cappella group, which is under the direction of Miss Edna Ruth Wood, is highly prized. The members of the choir enjoy singing and can certainly take pride in their achievements.

The scene opened with the hearty shouts of a famous pirate band, the Pirates of Penzance. Frederic had been indentured to their service through the mistake of his nurse, who now wanted to marry him. But he loved Maybel, whose father was a Major-General. The pirates captured the Major-General, but he was released because he said he was an orphan.

The second act opened with the Major-General brooding in his ancestral abbey, because he was not an orphan, and he was offending his ancestors-by-purchase. Frederic had promised to lead the police to death and glory against the pirate band, but he was reminded by the Pirate King and Ruth that he was still in their service. He had been born on Leap Year's Day and so was only a little boy of five years old.

Frederic and Maybel vowed their true love, and Frederic rejoined the pirates. He told the Pirate King that the Major-General was really not an orphan, and that the pirates attacked the baronial castle. The police charged them to yield in the name of Queen Victoria. They did so, because, with all their faults, they loved their Queen. Ruth admitted that they were all noblemen gone wrong, and so they were pardoned. Frederic and Maybel and all the pirates and all her sisters lived happily ever after.

The choir and orchestra and crews all had a lot of fun working on the operetta. On the nights of the performance their efforts were rewarded by many rounds of applause. The stage designs, done by the Commercial Art class under the direction of Mr. Pelz, were excellent. Mr. Kendall was in charge of scene construction. Miss Miller directed the dancing, and Mr. Cooke was the dramatic director. The orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Little, provided the inimitable music of Sullivan. Bouquets go to the choir, under the direction of Miss Wood, who worked hard to make this year's operetta a tremendous success.

Each Friday morning during the A-period, the students of Oak Park and River Forest High School receive the Trapeze, the weekly newspaper published by a student staff. This staff is under the supervision of Miss Ellen Shuart.

The paper contains news stories and features on school events; columns to furnish humor, answer questions, and honor outstanding students; and pictures which always add interest to the articles. The staff meets during the third period in room 126.

Tabula

Tabula staff members work daily all year the sixth and seventh periods under the supervision of Miss Ellen Shuart and Miss Nina Grace Smith. Mr. William May directs the scheduling of senior pictures.

In the early fall the work centers around the designing of page layouts and the selecting of a cover color and design.

During the late fall, winter, and early spring, pictures are taken and cleared through to the engraver, and copy is written and sent to the printer.

Galley proof is read, pages are pasted, page proof is checked and the Tabula comes into being, the product of the labor of two semesters.

The Varsity football team won four games and lost two in Suburban League competition this year. That record gave us a second-place tie in the league with Waukegan and Proviso, behind a powerful Evanston eleven.

The Huskies also played two extra-league games. They lost their season opener to DuPont Manual of Louisville, Kentucky, but later in the season they rolled over Granite City.

After the season, Dick Kolian and Chuck Schaefer were honored by their teammates as co-captains. Kolian, who did a great job as Oak Park's quarterback, was given an All-State rating.

The Junior Varsity won four games while losing three to tie for second place in the league. The J. V. co-captains were John Durgin and Bill Vande Merkt.

It's a first down.

Three Oak Park players were chosen for the All-State soccer team. Chuck Mead was All-State goalie, Tom Brown was All-State left fullback, and Don Stone was All-State center halfback and captain. John Budziu, a junior, was chosen center forward on the second team.

Mead and Stone were also honored as co-captains of the Oak Park squad.

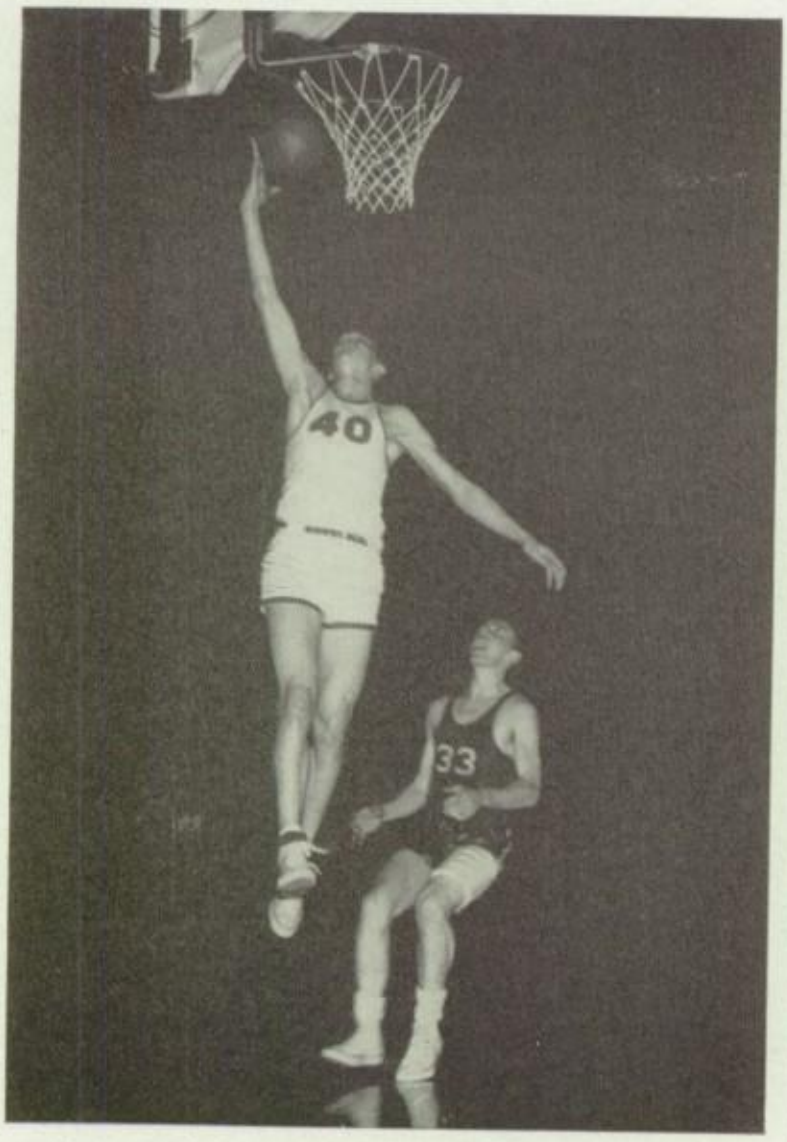
McConnell gets the jump.

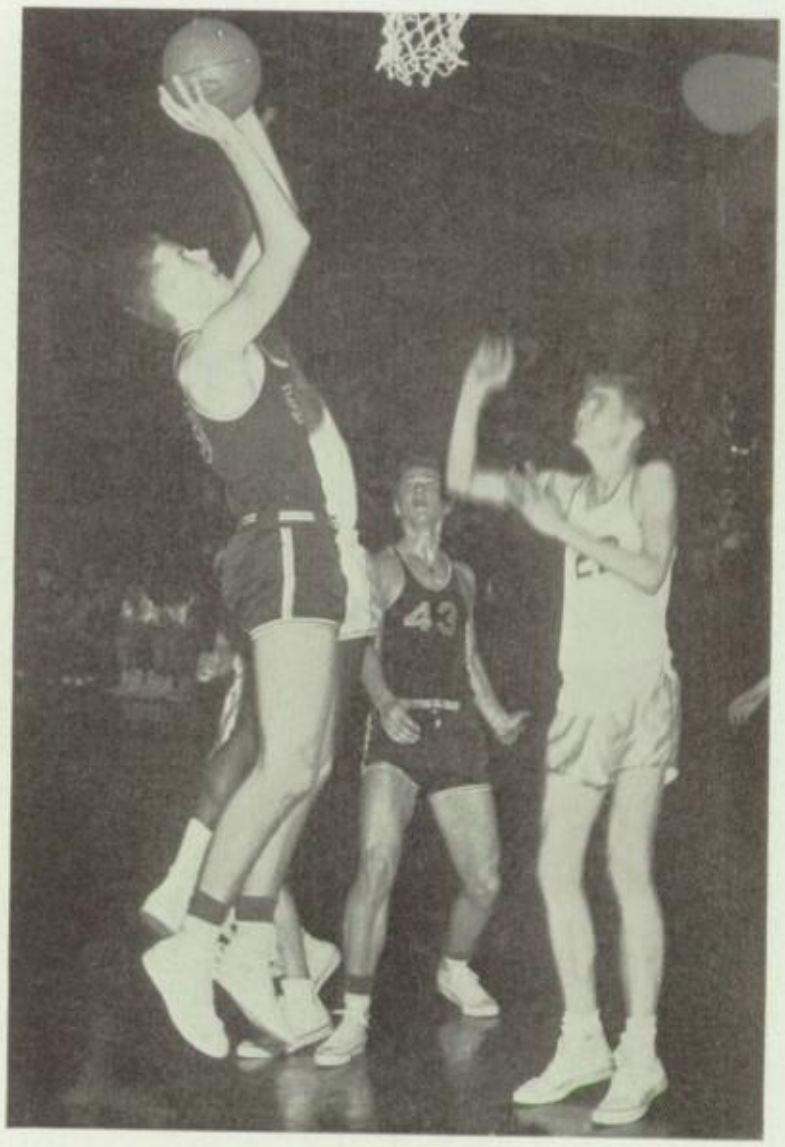
The Varsity basketball team won eleven games and lost three this year in league competition. This fine record placed the Huskies second in the Suburban League, behind Morton, twice the Huskies' conqueror.

Coach Miller's team played many extra-league games this year. During the season the Huskies won two and lost two of these contests. After the regular season was over, Oak Park beat Maine, York, and Proviso, for the regional championship. In the first round of sectional play Oak Park beat La-Grange, but lost to Thornton in the finals.

Chuck Mead and Jim Sellergren were the Huskies' co-captains. Mead, who was awarded special mention by the All-State Board, scored 243 points during the regular season to finish third in the individual scoring contest of the Suburban League. Jim Duncan placed seventh with 176 points.



Mead lays one up.



It's good for two.

The Varsity indoor track team won three meets and lost five this season. During these meets Calvin Boyd broke all Oak Park and Suburban League records in the high jump as he jumped six feet, five and one-half inches off the ground.

John Durgin was undefeated and untied in the broad jump. Art Clark in the hurdles and Duncan MacGregor running the half mile added many important points to the team.

Boyd sets a new record.

The Varsity swimming team finished fifth in the Suburban League with a record of four wins and six losses. In the league meet six tankmen scored to give Oak Park another fifth place.

The swimmers tied for fifth in the state meet also. Don Rogers, a sophomore, took a first in the 100-yard backstroke. Jack Powers, Jenks Oldin, and Bill Williams also placed.

Emerson Houck and Don Rivenes were elected co-captains of the Varsity squad.

Spring Sports

The spring sports include tennis, golf, outdoor track, and baseball.

This year's tennis team could very conceivably succeed last year's team as state champions. Coach Witsman places a lot of confidence in his first singles star, Dave Sofield. George and Dave Leonard hold the second and third singles positions. Alan Preucil and Sumner Rahr play first doubles, and James Grissom and Wayland Barber comprise the second doubles team.

Coach Swanson has a good squad of baseball players this year. The keystone positions are filled by Chuck Mead at shortstop and Jim Sellergren at second. Several pitchers returning from last year also show promise.

The outdoor track team, composed of the same boys as the indoor team, has the material for a fine season. With a few good breaks Coach Wright thinks they can win.

Many fine players are returning to the golf team from last year and Coach Wehrli can expect some good contests.

Basketball

Intramural Sports

The intramural program, directed by Coach Scott, is conducted for those boys who don't have the time or don't have the ability to be on one of the school teams.

The fall program consists of competition in tennis, swimming, basketball, and track. The winter program includes the popular sport of water polo. The spring program consists of golf, ping-pong, softball, and soccer.

The intramural program often proves a source of team material for the coaches of some sports, such as track, tennis, swimming, golf, and soccer.

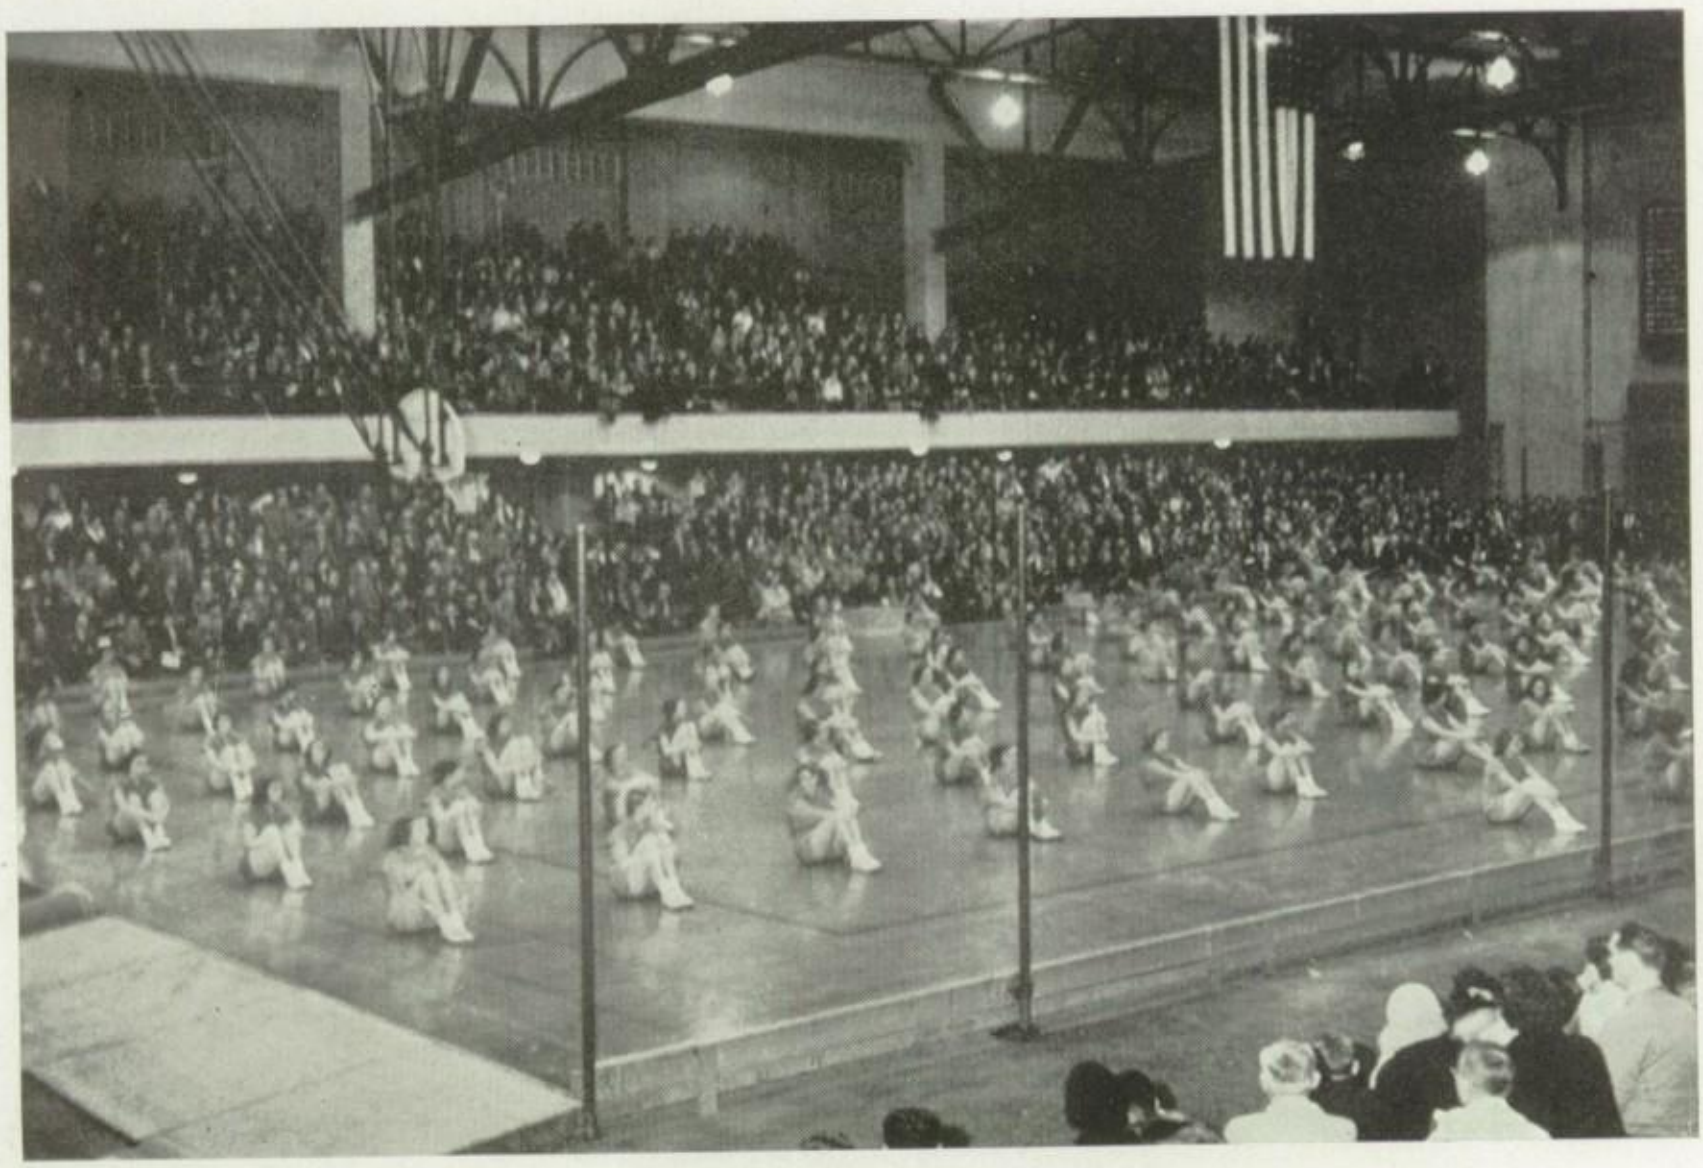
Gym Demonstration

The twenty-third Annual Gym Demonstration took place on January 24, 1952. It included all students in the school except those who were on athletic teams, in swimming classes, and rest classes. The program had eleven numbers, which showed the type of activities the students participate in during their Physical Education classes.

Six numbers were presented by the boys. A new attraction, track activities, was introduced by freshman boys. Other numbers showed apparatus work, volley ball, games and relays, tumbling, and calisthenics.

The girls demonstrated marching, modern dance, square dancing, rhythmical exercises, and folk dancing.



They "got rhythm."

Tennis

The tennis team had a very successful fall season. In the three meets played, Oak Park defeated Proviso and Maine, but tied with Glenbard. Singles and doubles both were played.

Five meets have been scheduled for the spring season.

Swimming

The swimming squad trained several weeks for the state telegraphic meet. We took part in all the events except the relays. Our pool is too short for relays. We placed third in the state, and tied second in the front crawl and back crawl events.

Basketball

The juniors were the champions this year in the basketball tournament. The seniors came in second. After practicing four weeks, the members of each after-school group chose teams to represent their classes.

Volleyball

This year's champions in volleyball were the seniors. The girls practiced for six to eight weeks after school, and in inter-class tournament was held at the end of the season. Second place was taken by the sophomores, and third by the juniors.

Varied Sports Activities . . .

Make a bull's eye next time.

Archery

Archery was part of both spring and fall sports. An archery team traveled to different schools during the spring to play meets.

Hockey

In the fall, the fundamentals of hockey were taught in the physical education classes. The skills were practiced after school.

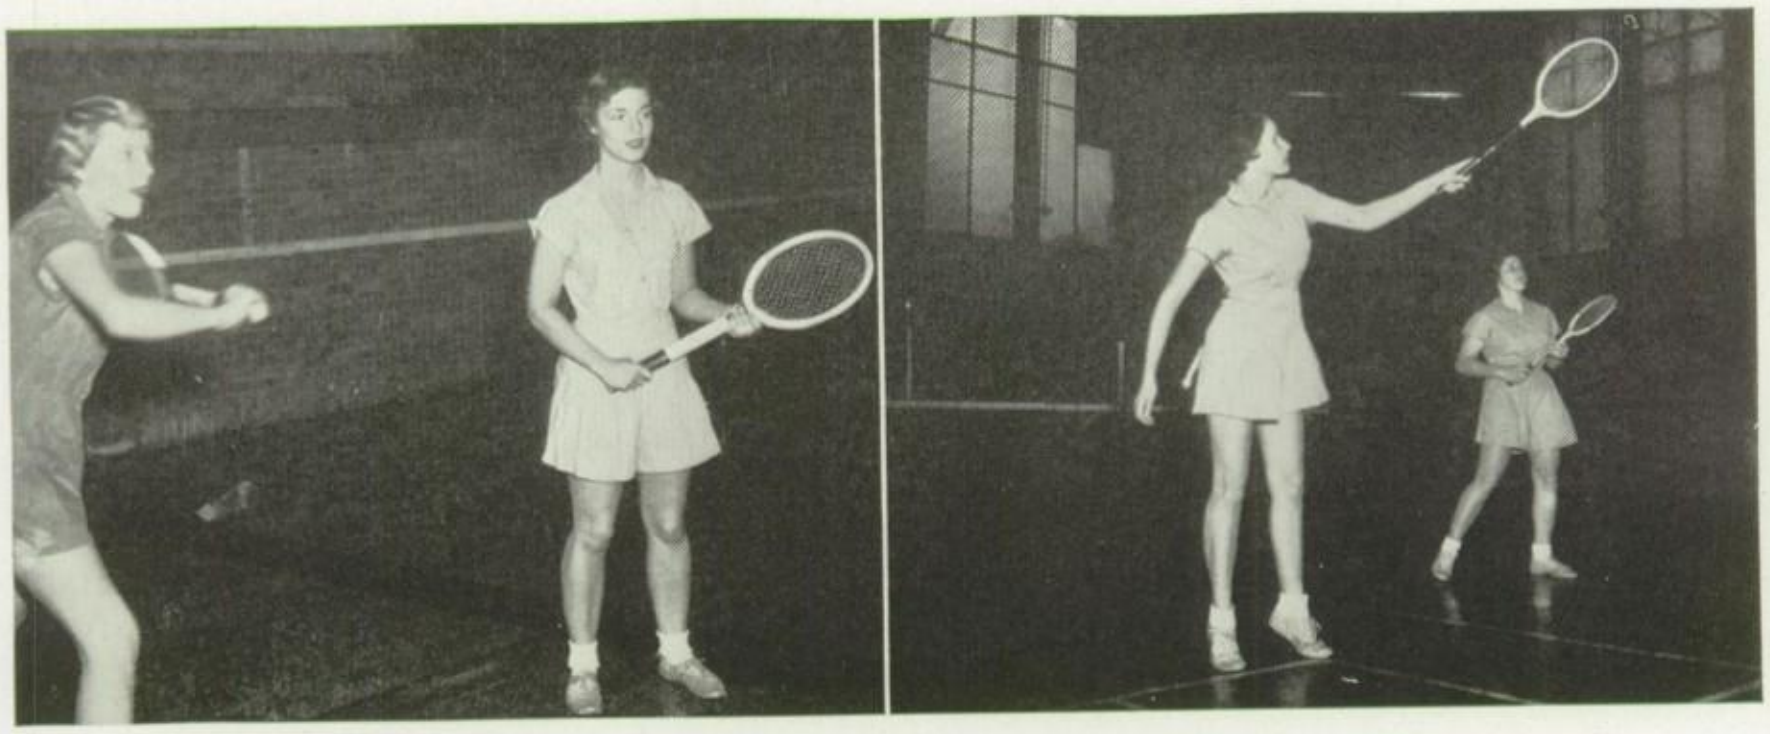
They seem to be hitting it off well.

Tennis

Tennis was played during the fall and spring. Beginners learned all the basic strokes, and the advanced players learned special strokes.

Badminton

In the winter quarters the girls learned to play singles and doubles in badminton, and practiced so that they were ready for the tournament.



It's the backhand in tennis . . . the overhand in badminton.

Volleyball

Volleyball was one of the sports carried throughout the school year. It was played in posture and general gym classes, and after school.

Basketball

Basketball was played in the gym classes and in after-school activities. At both times the games were full of action and excitement.

Speedball

Speedball was offered during the spring in gym classes. It is a combination of the games of football, soccer, and basketball.

Softball

One favorite spring sport, softball, was played in team sports, and after school. An inter-class tournament highlighted the season.

Atalanta

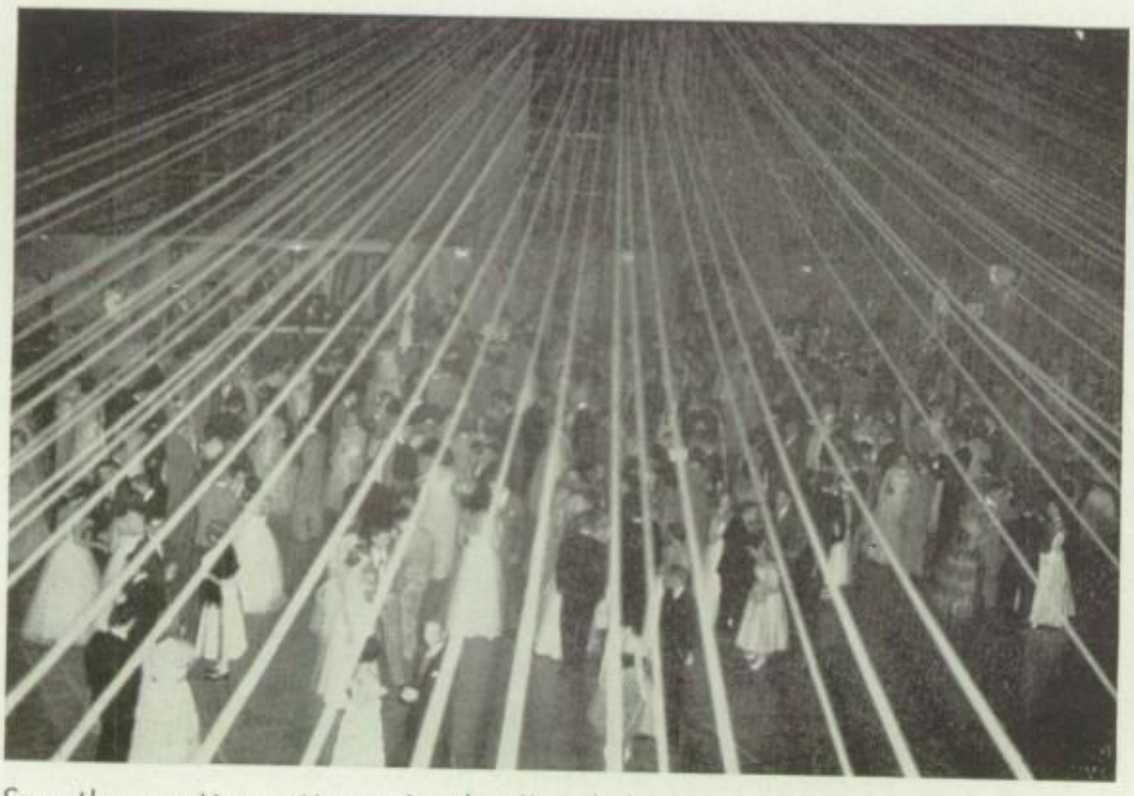
Line up for roll call.

The Girls' Athletic Association at Oak Park is called Atalanta. Any girl who is interested in athletics may join. In order to gain membership she must go out for after-school sports as well as meet certain health standards. To remain a member, she must keep up her points for the after-school activities.

The Atalanta Board is composed of the girls nominated for the four offices. The board plans the meetings and directs all the activities. Of the ten meetings held throughout the year, the highlights are the Mothers' Tea and the annual banquet given in the spring.

The officers of Atalanta for the year were as follows:

President . . . . . Priscilla Rice
Vice President . . . . . Barbara Blue
Secretary . . . . . Sue Brunkow
Treasurer . . . . . Virginia Carpenter



See the pretty patterns in the "park."

Football Dance

The members of Atalanta spent a lot of time and effort working on the Football Dance, an annual event sponsored by the club in honor of the fall sports teams.

The members managed the whole dance. They sold bids, selected the band, and planned and put up the decorations. The theme of the 1951 dance was Central Park.

The annual Mothers' Tea was held this year on December fourteenth. At the tea, awards for 600, 1200, and 1600 points were presented to girls who had earned sports points, had met health standards, and had passed the posture tests.

Awards were again presented at the annual banquet held in the spring.

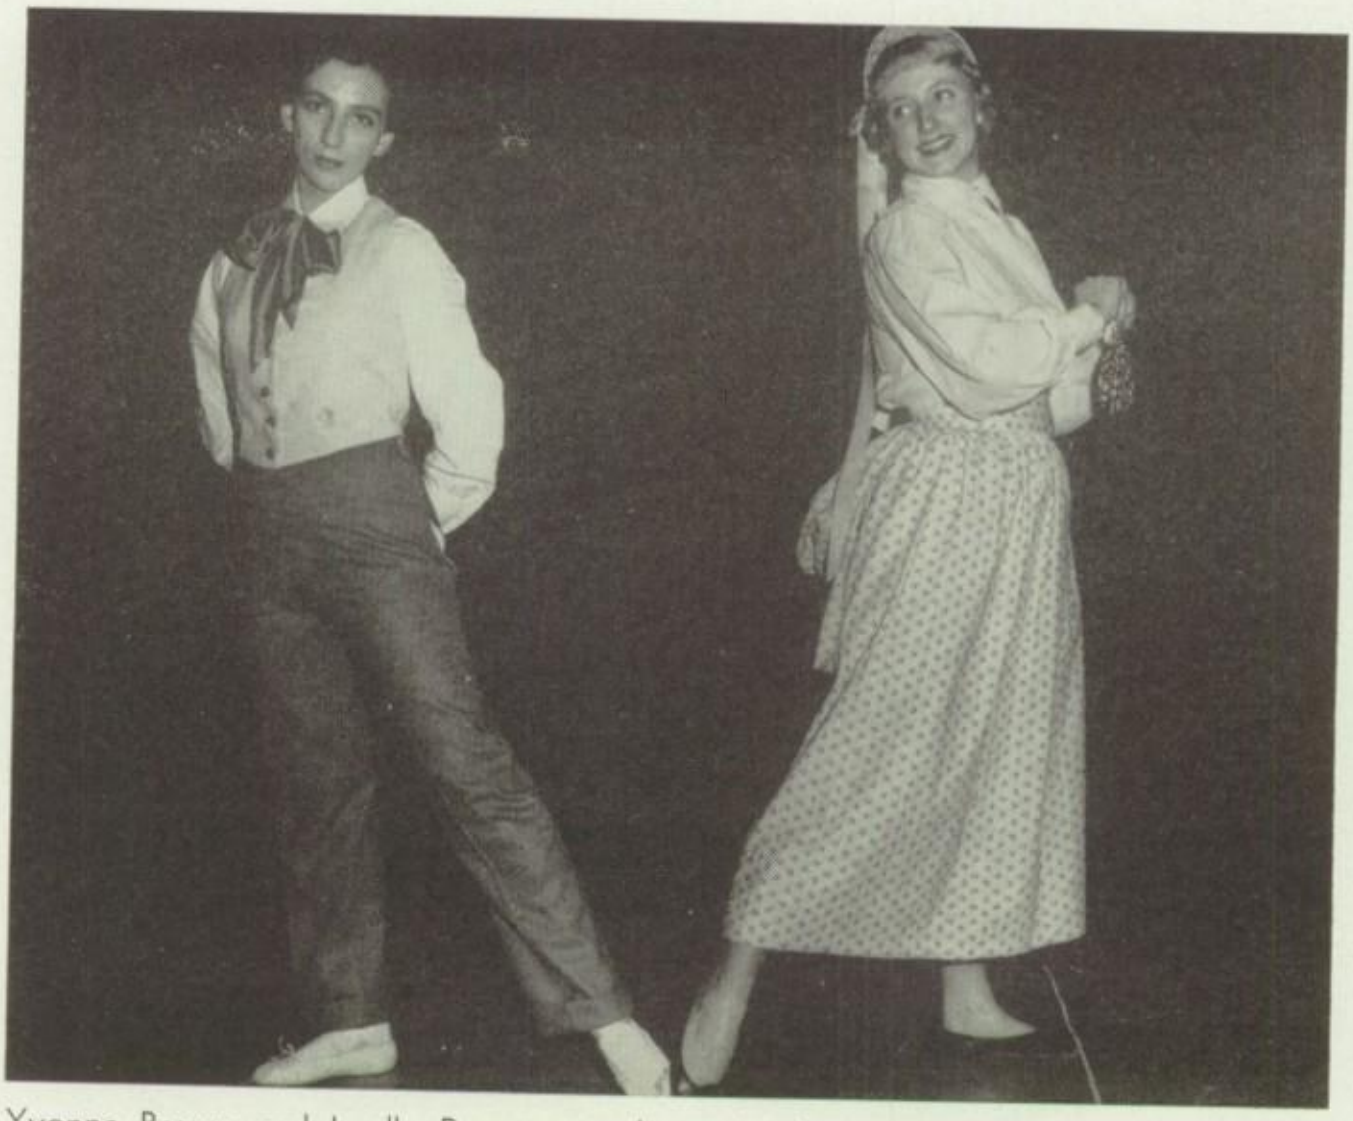
Leaders teach diving.

During the first semester of the school year, a Leaders' Class was open to all the girls especially interested in physical education and willing to give up the extra time to assist the gym teachers.

The class met eighth period. The members learned the basic and advanced skills of many sports so that they were capable of teaching others. They learned the rules of many games so that they could be competent referees.

Then these girls gave up extra time to help the gym teachers during the different classes throughout the day and to referee after-school games.

Dance Demonstration



Yvonne Brown and Luella Rasmussen dance in the art gallery.

Irene Junkunc is featured as Jane.

The Dance Demonstration, presented on March 20, was again a success. The first half of the program included various types of dancing learned in class work, while the second half introduced the production, "The Picture Gallery," which was done entirely by the after-school group.

Square dancing, folk dancing, and several different techniques in modern dance were demonstrated by the different groups from gym classes.

"The Picture Gallery" was a dance interpretation of six musical selections. The dances presented gave impressions of six different pictures in an art gallery. All of the choreography was done by the dance students.

The high school orchestra, conducted by Mr. Little, provided the music. The dancers in "The Picture Gallery" were directed by Mrs. Murphy. The first part of the program was supervised by Miss Klement and Miss Rudolph.

Student Government

The councils are an important part of our school life. They give us all experience in selecting representatives from among our schoolmates to guide student affairs. Those who are so elected gain experience in assuming responsibility and in working with others.

Student Council, under the direction of Dr. Youngert, is composed of members of each class. This year for the first time they drew up a constitution and sent delegates to the State Student Council convention.

Senior Council is advised in its business by Miss Horner and Mr. Fritzemeier. Organizing Class Day and helping prepare for Commencement were some of the members' duties.

Junior Council, supervised by Mrs. Grant and Mr. Cady, planned the Junior Prom.

Freshman Council, under the guidance of Miss Pring and Mr. Seymour, helps freshmen to adjust themselves to high school life. This group planned the Talent Assembly and a party for their Big Brothers and Sisters.

Safety Council is divided into smaller groups. Driving, Bicycle, and Signs Councils guard against accidents outside of school, and Halls and Publicity Councils protect us inside of school.

Smoking Council, composed of eight seniors and four juniors elected by the boys, is charged with the investigation of those found violating the school smoking rules.

Big Brothers and Sisters are a group of seniors who counsel the freshman homerooms, especially during the first semester.

Girls' Club Council, governing all the girls in the school, plans many fine activities such as charity work for the Red Cross and Chicago Commons.

Departmental Clubs

Occupying a prominent position among the organizations of the school, our many clubs offer to students a wide range of programs to fit as many different interests as possible. In this year's Tabula the clubs are arranged into four main classifications: Departmental, Debating, Drama, and Hobby.

The Departmental Clubs, or those directly related to subjects taught in school, supplement work done in the classroom with interesting programs and field trips.

Debating Clubs

As members of the five debating clubs, many students acquire valuable experience in debating and a practical knowledge of parliamentary law. Rivalry runs high, but good sportsmanship prevails, and the members always anticipate the joint meetings held near the end of the year. The debating clubs are open to juniors and seniors.

This year a high point for the boys' clubs was the mock political meeting held in the spring to "nominate" candidates for the election next fall.

Drama Clubs

Anyone interested in acting has an opportunity to develop his talents in the three dramatic clubs, Masqueraders for the sophomores, Footlights for the juniors, and Drama Club for the seniors.

Students gain excellent training in acting, directing, make-up, casting, and stage techniques. The experience in dramatics acquired in these clubs gives pleasure and develops insight into the exciting life behind the footlights.

Hobby Clubs

The seven Hobby Clubs of the school bring together from all four classes students interested in common pastimes. These hobbies may be concerned with tiny postage stamps, electronics, writing, or the giant steel trains of our nation's railways.

For those interested in this last field, a new club made its appearance this year, Railroad Fan Club, which has made a real effort to bring its members into closer contact with our leading means of transportation.

1892 — OUR 60th YEAR — 1952

Your father, grandfather, or even great-grandfather may well have been a depositor way back in 1892 when this bank was founded. Many departments have been added since then, and the bank has grown greatly, but the officers are still out at the counter, ready to serve you, whether your business be large or small, and whether you are an old customer or a young person just starting out.
